PARTY FEELING.

In our local columns we give a report of a public meeting held here on Friday evening last. It was a good average specimen of what hidebound partisanship will do. The meeting was called by Mr. G. S. Davidson, M. J. A., who with others had pursued a course in the Assembly which was approved of by ninety per cent of the people of the Territories. His object in calling the meeting was to discuss Northwest questions and appoint delegates to attend the convention held at Medicine Hat this week. The meeting was thinly attended, and it may be said that it was insufficiently advertised. The farmers at a distance from town may not have known anything about it because of the busy season, but posters had been printed and put up conspicuously about town in sufficient time to inform every man in town and near vicinity. But little interest was taken in the meeting, and nearly all those who attended went with the object of throwing cold water. Why it may be asked. It needs no great penetration to find the reason. The Tories do not want to help any agitation for the rights of the Northwest because they fear injury to their party, and the Grits appear to have no desire to urge the immediate removal of our Territorial disabilities in order that their party may have a big grievance against the Dominion Government for the next election campaign. We ask, what becomes of patriotism to home and country when such narrow bigotry is the guiding motive? If the people of the Territories were true to themselves and their own interests, the politicians would soon find a means of meeting their demands. Is slavish partisanship of greater consequence than civil rights? Does not all history teach that the blind infatuation which pervades extreme partisanship is one of its greatest weaknesses? The Conservatives should look to Manitoba. What has become of their party there in provincial affairs? Its sad fate at the hands of eastern party exigencies is still fresh in our memory. Just so long as the people of the West are apathetic or allow territorial interests to be subservient to partisanship, so long will our progress be handicapped by injurious eastern influences. The instinct of self-preservation and far-sightedness ought to impel the Conservatives to urge more strongly a removal of our grievances, in fact all ought to endeavor to advance home interests, especially when fostering them will be for the general welfare, and will work injury to none.

MOSSES HAD ASTHMA.
My Uncle had asthma for eight years with a very rough, and his lungs also were affected. He could neither rest, nor work nor get relief from any medicine he tried. Some time ago a Harvard's Pastoral Balsam, and after taking six or eight bottles his cough gradually ceased, the asthma greatly relieved, and his lungs greatly benefited.

IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

To the Editor of THE PROGRESS:

Sir.—I will not apologize in asking for space in your columns to reply to "Conservative Loyalist" on this interesting and important subject.

Whatever his object your correspondent deserves the thanks of the supporters of the movement he opposes, as he may be the means of raising a local discussion, which, I venture to predict, can only end in his complete discrediting.

In his opening statement he is candid enough to admit that, to use his own words, "much attention is being directed towards Imperial Federation in all the English-speaking countries." This is in itself tantamount to admission that the subject is something more than a "fad," as he is pleased to elegantly term it. "May I without offence suggest that a momentous subject like annexation of the United States is too remote to be worth a moment's consideration?" I vaguely, and I hope impartially, suspect that his object is to disarm our natural distrust and pull us into a false security. He murmurs gently of a "happy medium" in a "free and independent Canada." Free from whom? From what? He does speak with moderation and with tongue in cheek really means "Free" to be coerced and absorbed into the United States! Independent and deprived of the support of the ironclads of England!

It is with hesitation that I encroach the suspicion, but try how much I will, I cannot escape altogether from the thought, prompted and supported as it is by the unequivocal of Conservative Loyalist's communication that he is veritable a "wolf in sheep's clothing," or in other words, an anarchist-in-disguise. We know that even in royal and patriotic Canada this hybrid phenomenon is not unknown, and when I listen to the dulcet tones of Conservative Loyalist soothsaying reassuring us that the question of annexation to the United States is "too remote to be worth a moment's consideration" I vaguely, and I hope impartially, suspect that his object is to disarm our natural distrust and pull us into a false security.

To the Editor of THE PROGRESS:

Sir.—If you will kindly allow me space, I would like to call public attention to an event which transpired in our town a couple of weeks ago. I refer to the organization of the Qu'Appelle Branch of the Imperial Federation League.

The event is of such importance to our country and will be so far-reaching in its influence on the future welfare of the Empire that we must consider it a part of our national life. Had Conservative Loyalist (?) been a political writer of a quarter of a century ago he would probably have advanced the same pessimistic views of Canadian Federation, now admitted on all sides, as did the great achievements of Colonial statesmen half a century ago. He would have been equally justified in his opposition to the same hostile criticism of all great political movements in their early inception, and, as a matter of fact, is by the names of some and the ignorance of others.

A liberal commission will be allowed to parties who are willing to act as agents for us. Write for terms.

Sire Premier (2646), by What's Wanted (2332), Dam by Tory (2929).

Granite was born in the year 1887, by Mr. A. E. Cooper, Normanton-le-Heath, England, and is the son of the 1st prize at Ashby-de-la-Zouch, England, he is a grey-roan, and a colt of exceptionally grand quality, with well-shaped legs and feet.

Premier (2646), bred in the year 1880, by Mr. John Fisher, Layton Hall, is one of the most progressive sires of the day.

M. S. Stoddard, in his recent report of the 1886 London Show, in giving a list of the winning sires, states: "The most remarkable addition is Premier (2646), who with the aid of five yearlings and one three-year-old, surpasses his rivals, and claims six winners," &c.

Again in the report of the 1887 Show, by the same writer: "For the second year in succession, Premier (2646), takes pride of place, and is the best sire in the stock, both colts and fillies command extra high prices and are much sought after."

Premier is hired for the season of 1890 to the Leicestershire Agricultural Society for 500 guineas ($2,500). The British Live Stock Journal, of March 7th, in speaking of Granite, says: "This valuable importation will doubtless prove beneficial to the farmers of the district."
